OPINION

Feminist voters wanted ‘Kamalot’ — instead they got ‘Kam-a-little’ of Harris

By Kyle Smith

April 30, 2022 | 2:44pm | Updated

Vice President Kamala Harris is drowning in the polls, with a recent approval/disapproval rating of 29 to 63.
NY Post photo composite/Mike Guillen

MORE FROM: KYLE SMITH

Elon Musk can save Twitter despite what liberal loons say — and here’s how

The solution to obnoxious sports parents? Duct tape

When will Fauci and liberal leaders apologize for the millions of lives damaged with pointless COVID restrictions?

Media works overtime to clean up Joe Biden’s word salads

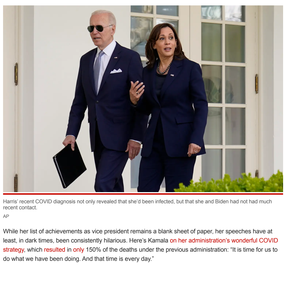
It isn’t ‘fringe left’ hurting Democrats — the fringe IS the Dems

Remember the old TV commercials about the Maytag Repairman, whose machines were so indestructible he was the loneliest guy in town? Kamala Harris is Madam Maytag — the loneliest girl in DC. Last year, Harris was a history-making figure who was historically historic. This year, she’s Robinson Crusoe on Mars.

The most recent poll gives Harris an approval/disapproval rating of 29 to 63. That’s almost where China’s approval rating (20%) stands after killing six million people.

Last week Harris got COVID — remember that disease that killed 600,000 Americans after Joe Biden vowed to “shut it down” — and no one even pretended to care. CNN’s White House correspondent M.J. Lee this week told us, “Kamala Harris has tested positive for COVID . . . She is not considered a close contact of President Biden.” Why would she be close to Biden? He wants her advice about as much as he wants Ben Shapiro’s.

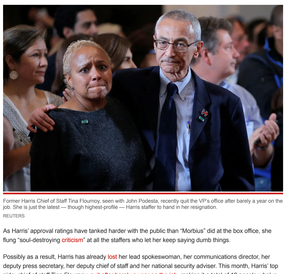
Harris was supposed to be the person who got the border sorted out. Instead, things got messier than ever. She was tasked with pushing for voting rights, and gave an urgent Martin Luther King Jr. Day speech in which she claimed voting rights were under assault in “in Georgia and across our nation.” Yet Georgia and our nation ignored her, because Georgia and Arizona got to set their own state voting laws no matter how much inane bloviation issues from the Beltway. When she was sent to France to smooth things out with Emmanuel Macron, who is annoyed with the US because we iced them out of a deal to sell submarines to Australia, Macron didn’t answer a reporter who asked whether he had forgiven the US.



Harris’ recent COVID diagnosis not only revealed that she’d been infected, but that she and Biden had not had much recent contact.
AP

While her list of achievements as vice president remains a blank sheet of paper, her speeches have at least, in dark times, been consistently hilarious. Here’s Kamala on her administration’s wonderful COVID strategy, which resulted in only 150% of the deaths under the previous administration: “It is time for us to do what we have been doing. And that time is every day.”

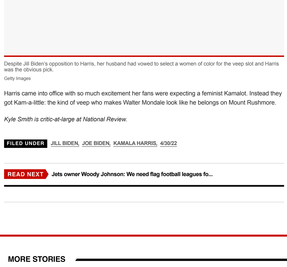
Kamala’s Ukraine explainer: “So, Ukraine is a country in Europe. It exists next to another country called Russia. Russia is a bigger country. Russia is a powerful country. Russia decided to invade a smaller country called Ukraine. So, basically, that’s wrong.” Kamala on the cosmos: “Space is exciting. It spurs our imaginations, and it forces us to ask big questions. Space, it affects us all and it connects us all.” Sources say Harris managed to say this without being anywhere near a bong.



Former Harris Chief of Staff Tina Flournoy, seen with John Podesta, recently quit the VP’s office after barely a year on the job. She is just the latest — though highest-profile — Harris staffer to hand in her resignation.
REUTERS

As Harris’ approval ratings have tanked harder with the public than “Morbius” did at the box office, she flung “soul-destroying criticism” at all the staffers who let her keep saying dumb things.

Possibly as a result, Harris has already lost her lead spokeswoman, her communications director, her deputy press secretary, her deputy chief of staff and her national security adviser. This month, Harris’ top aide, chief of staff Tina Flournoy, quit after barely a year on the job, making it a total of 12 people who’ve left their positions under Harris as veep. Harris is so toxic she even managed to cause mousy Jill Biden to lose her spit. After Harris went after Joe Biden in a debate, Jill suggested that Harris go make love to herself, though not in those words. Then, when the prospect of selecting Harris as running mate came up, the First-Lady-to-be said, “There are millions of people in the United States. Why do we have to choose the one who attacked Joe?”



Harris, seen during the June 2019 Democratic debate, where she criticized Biden’s record on school busing. The very public attack reportedly convinced First Lady Jill that Harris was not right for the VP position.
AFP via Getty Images

Answer: because Joe had cornered himself by vowing to pick a woman of color, which given the demographic makeup of the political class (among 150 senators and governors, only five were women of color), was like going to Ruth’s Chris Steak House and asking for the vegan menu. If she ever makes it to the presidency, it’ll be because Biden can’t finish his term, not because America wants her there.

Despite Jill Biden’s opposition to Harris, her husband had vowed to select a women of color for the veep slot and Harris was the obvious pick.
Getty Images

Harris came into office with so much excitement her fans were expecting a feminist Kamalot. Instead they got Kam-a-little: the kind of veep who makes Walter Mondale look like he belongs on Mount Rushmore.

Kyle Smith is critic-at-large at National Review.

FILED UNDER JILL BIDEN, JOE BIDEN, KAMALA HARRIS, 4/30/22

READ NEXT Jets owner Woody Johnson: We need flag football leagues fo...

WHAT TO SHOP NOW

The New York Post Spring Shopping Event is here: Exclusive offers, more

19 best white jeans and shorts for women: our review for summer 2022

32 best women’s workout clothing sets to inspire your fitness routine

The best Allbirds shoes for any activity: Runners, slip-ons and more

The 12 best cut-out dresses in every style and color for 2022

COLUMNISTS

Cindy Adams

‘The Essex Serpent’ set to premiere on Apple TV+

Kyle Smith

Feminist voters wanted ‘Kamalot’ — instead they got ‘Kam-a-little’ of Harris

Maureen Callahan

Hollywood ushers in a new Golden Age — of the 50-something romcom queen

SEE ALL COLUMNISTS ▸

COVERS

Today’s Cover

FRONT COVER

FLIP FOR BACK COVER

BROWSE COVERS ›

TRENDING NOW

ON NYPOST.COM

179,503

Former McDonald’s manager says never order this drink

155,749

Amber Heard fires PR team days before she’s set to testify after torrent of ‘bad headlines’

136,256

Pete Davidson debuts tattoo seemingly dedicated to Kim Kardashian’s kids

MORE STORIES

PAGE SIX

Pete Davidson debuts tattoo seemingly dedicated to Kim Kardashian’s kids

NYPOST

Former McDonald’s manager says never order this drink

© 2022 NYP Holdings, Inc. All Rights Reserved · Terms of Use · Membership Terms · Privacy Notice · Your Ad Choices · Sitemap · Your California Privacy Rights

Powered by WordPress VIP